

Where do I find answers?

Confused by your insurer's decision to require you order your medicine through the mail?

When you're faced with a change, we are here to help you manage it. We know you want to save on your prescriptions, but you also want to be able to ask questions and know the answers are provided by the pharmacist you trust.

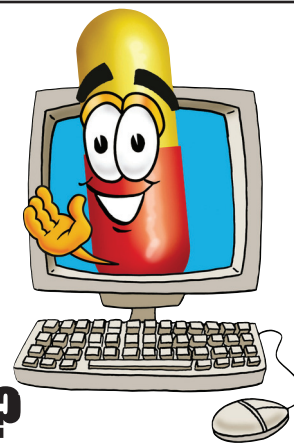

Your independent pharmacy staff is always available to help you negotiate your health care needs and provide you with accurate information. We know informed patients make sound health choices and we are your resource for prescription information.

Learn more at <http://www.fight4rx.org>

Your health is important to you!

Helping you is important to us!

Questioning mail-order for your prescription?

You are faced with many health care changes and juggling the decisions can be a full-time research project. And, if your insurer opts for a mail-order prescription plan, you may not be comfortable with your choices.

You trust your independent community pharmacy to answer all your prescription drug questions. We are here for you on this issue too. All you have to do is ask.

We're ready to assist you wherever we can and help you make the choice that is right for you and your health.

Don't put someone else in control of your health decisions.

Ask questions!
Get the facts!
It's your health!

Ask your community pharmacist and to learn more visit <http://www.fight4rx.org>

Your health is important to you!

Helping you is important to us!